

MAGIC MODEL CARBON RAIL

The newest technology for the magic series; the Carbon SLX Magic model. The SLX Magic model is a ultra high performance surfboard that combines EPS construction with state of the art carbon fiber. The board is super light with an EPS core and equally strong with reinforced carbon rails that add maximum durability where you need it most- the rails. The SLX magic model is significantly lighter than the same magic model in standard construction, yet as strong, if not stronger; it has the greatest weight to strength ratio of any magic model. If you want speed, lightweight, maneuverability and state of the art construction this is they magic model to own
